LILIES

• BLUE DIAMOND QUALITY •

SSS

In spite of the relatively high price as compared to the cost of those formerly imported from Japan, Lilies are still a "MUST" item. The quantity available is, of course, still small, but the quality of those which are, is good. Those who had some last year, want more this season.

While we have already booked a considerable quantity, we can still take on a few more, if ordered promptly.

Those for which we can take orders now are—Lilium Floridii and Lilium Florabelle—both grown in Florida—and Creoles—all have proven their merit.

Lilium Howardii and Harrisii—both from Bermuda. Harrisii, of course, has been on the market for years. Howardii, the quantity of which has been limited since its introduction several years ago, has won friends wherever grown.

Lilium Regale. This was grown last year for the first time to any extent for an Easter pot plant and proved popular in many places. Easily grown (just like Giganteum) they bleach out to almost a pure white in the greenhouse. It is the most inexpensive Lily today and has value before and after, as well as at Easter. Indeed, with the limited quantity of Lilies available, we feel sure there will be a good market for cut as well as pot Lilies.

We strongly advise placing your orders NOW to be sure of getting some.

LILIUM CREOLE

HARDY LILIES

CULTURE OF LILIES IN POTS

Use deep pots; a 6-inch pot is the best all-round size. Large bulbs should be grown in 8 inch. Small Lilies such as Concolor, Tenuifolium, Elegans, etc. look best if three are grown in a 5 or 6 inch pot. Fill the bottom of the pot with broken cracks and cover with a layer of small charcoal. Use a porous compost of fibrous loam and sharp sand with one-third part of leaf-mould. Place the bulbs half-way down the pot and envelop them in 1/2-inch thickness of washed sand. Stem-rooting bulbs should have their pots filled to 1 1/2 inches from the rim and should be top-dressed when the stem-roots start to form, with two-thirds spent manure and one-third loam. After potting, plunge the pots in ashes or fibre in a cold frame and protect from severe frost and heavy rain. Bring into the greenhouse when growth begins and water regularly to keep the soil just moist.

Candidum (Madonna Lily). This Lily likes a good, deep, loamy soil, not too dry, and a sunny situation where it can be left undisturbed for years. Plant shallow, covering the bulbs not more than 1 inch or 2 to 3 inches if the soil is very light. Height 4 to 6 feet. June flowering.

DAPHNE CNEORUM

A popular pot plant. Forms a magnificent solid pink globe of most fragrant blossoms. The individual flower resembles Bouvardia. Can be had in flower from St. Valentine's Day to the Spring holiday season, and blooms again in early Fall. The Fall flowering quality makes it extremely desirable for the garden after flowering in the home.

Field grown plants, trimmed, well shaped and stored, suitable for forcing.
